A POLITICAL DEBATE

Breaks the Monotony of the House Proceedings.

JERRY SIMPSON CAUSED IT.

He Alluded to an Alleged Interview With President McKinley on the Important Subject of Immigration.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The house spent a couple of hours transacting business relating to the District of Columbia, and the remainder of the day on the Indian appropriation bill.

During the consideration of the latter bill a lively political debate was precipitated by an allusion made by Mr. Simpson (Pop., Kan.) relative to an alleged interview with the president on the subject of immigration.

Mr. Grosvenor took occasion to express the opinion that the president had never used some of the language imputed to him, and the debate drifted into a general discussion of our industrial conditions, in the course of which the strike in New England, the high prices for wheat in Kansas and the defaulting Republican officials in Nebraska successively played their parts.

In the Senate.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The proposed annexation of Hawaii was somewhat extensively reviewed by Mr. Morgan of Alabama while speaking to a question of personal privilege.

The Alabama senator had been represented as saying in executive session substantially that ex-President Cleveland was in favor of Hawaiian annexation.

This statement called out a denial from Mr. Cleveland, and in support of his original statement Mr. Morgan addressed the senate at great length.

One of the features of the session was an elaborate speech by Mr. Turpie of Indiana in support of the Teller silver resolution.

The pension appropriation bill was called up and debated for nearly three hours, but was not passed, the senate adjourning pending the disposal of the point of order made against an amendment offered by Mr. Allen of Nebraska to the pending bill.

DIRECTOR OF THE MINT

Has Resigned and His Successor Has Been Appointed.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The resignation of R. E. Preston as director of the mint was tendered to the president, to take effect upon the appointment and qualification of his successor.

Mr. Preston has been connected with the treasury department for more than 42 years. During the last four years he has been director of the mint.

The president later sent to the senate the name of George E. Roberts of Fort Dodge, Ia., for the vacancy created by the resignation of Mr. Preston.

The appointment of Mr. Roberts was entirely unsought by him, and is construed as a direct recognition of the Republican sentiment in Iowa on the financial question by tendering this important position to one of its leading citizens, made eminent by his able support, by his pen and on the rostrum, of the principles enunciated in the St. Louis platform.

Mr. Roberts is said to be a man of high personal character and an exceptionally able editorial writer.

No Danger of Starvation.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Attorney General Breck received a telegram from General Merriam, commanding the Department of the Columbia, at Vancouver, Wash., saying that he has received reports from Major Rucker, dated Dyea, Jan. 17, bringing news from Dawson up to Dec. 20. Major Rucker says that all arrivals agree that there is no danger of starvation at Dawson, and that the river is still open from Lake Labarge to Hootalinqua.

Financial Bill Introduced.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Senator Elkins has introduced a financial bill. It restricts the denomination of greenbacks and treasury notes to bills of \$5 and upward; provides that national banks may issue currency up to the par value of bonds deposited; reduces the tax on circulation to  $\frac{1}{2}$  of 1 per cent, and allows national banks to be established with \$25,000 capital in towns of 3,000 population.

Favorably Reported.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The senate committee on judiciary has reported favorably the nomination of Governor Griggs of New Jersey to be attorney general.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The statement of the condition of the treasury shows: Available cash balance, $240,393,175; gold reserve, $163,423,770.

ACTOR IN A CAGE.

Ratcliffe Is Held For Perjury In New York City.

New York, Jan. 25.—Edward J. Ratcliffe, the actor, was held in $2,000 bail on the charge of perjury. The alleged perjury consists in swearing during his recent trial for assaulting his wife, the daughter of Peter De Lacy, that he had never been married before.

Caroline Ravenhill, who alleges that Ratcliffe married her in England in 1883, produced the original marriage certificate which is alleged to prove the actor's perjury and bigamy.

A warrant against Ratcliffe has been issued in New Jersey for bigamy, and papers in a suit for annulment of marriage, brought by Peter De Lacy's daughter, were served on Ratcliffe.

GOING TO THE FRONT.

General Blanco Leaves Havana to Visit His Troops.

Havana, Jan. 25.—Captain General Blanco left on an express train for Batabamo, on the south coast. From there he will take a coasting steamer to Cienfuegos, province of Santa Clara, and from that port he will go to Manzanillo, province of Santiago de Cuba. During the absence of the captain general General Parrado will exercise the functions of that office.

A Call For Money.

New York, Jan. 25.—The order of the secretary of the treasury calling on the banks having deposits on account of the sale of the Union Pacific railroad to pay 10 per cent of the amount on deposit into the treasury on Wednesday next is expected to have a stimulating effect on the money market here, where many millions have been lying idle in the vaults for several months.

Will Attend a Banquet.

Baltimore, Jan. 25.—Invitations have been accepted by Hon. Lyman J. Gage, secretary of the treasury; Hon. James A. Gary, Postmaster general, and Hon. Webster Davis, assistant secretary of the interior, to attend the annual banquet of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association. The banquet will be held at the Hotel Rennert, Feb. 3.

War Fever Subsiding.

Valparaiso, Jan. 25.—The war fever is subsiding. President Errazuriz, in reply to a deputation that waited upon him, said there was no ground for alarm, as the treaties were being respected and the representatives of Chile and Argentina were meeting with no obstacles in the execution of the protocols.

Committee of Arbitration.

New York, Jan. 25.—Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, Trunk Line Commissioner Goddard and Vice President Harahan of the Illinois Central formed a committee of arbitration which met in this city for the purpose of arbitrating questions in connection with the eastern soft-coal roads and the haul of that commodity.

Old Employees Return.

Burlington, Vt., Jan. 25.—The Queen City cotton mills, which have been shut down on account of the strike, resumed operations, nearly all of the old employees returning, and practically all the machinery is running. The Queen City operatives were the first to resist the general reduction.

Cincinnati, Jan. 25.—Mrs. Mary Shillito, widow of the late John Shillito, founder of the great mercantile house in this city that bears his name, died after a long illness from infirmities of old age.

DONE AT CINCINNATI.

Bribery Investigating Committee Leaves There.

WILL WORK IN COLUMBUS.

Thirty Witnesses Were Examined In the Queen City of the West and Some Were Found Who Refused to Testify.

Cincinnati, Jan. 25.—The legislative committee closed its investigation in this city of the Otis charges of bribery in the recent election of United States senator. The senate committee will continue its work at Columbus.

Thirty witnesses have been examined here since last Friday, most of them being employees of the Gibson House, of telegraph and telephone companies and the Union Savings and Trust company.

Jared P. Bliss, Allen O. Myers, Sr., and E. H. Archer were the principal other witnesses. They returned to Columbus with the committee. The attorneys and three members of the house committee also returned.

As the evidence of Representative John C. Otis and of Colonel Thomas C. Campbell will be very lengthy, they were not called here, but Mr. Otis will likely be the next witness at Columbus.

At Columbus last week several witnesses refused to testify because their attorneys advised them that a senate committee has no jurisdiction in investigating charges made by a member of the house.

The employees of President Schmidlapp's bank and Hon. Harry M. Daugherty, chairman of the Republican state central committee, declined either to be sworn or to answer questions because the committee has no jurisdiction.

When H. H. Hollenbeck was en route from Columbus to Cincinnati, Jan. 7, he received a dispatch signed "H. D." and the committee asked Mr. Daugherty if he sent that dispatch. Mr. Daugherty declined to answer questions, and continued to argue the question of jurisdiction until he was excused, subject to call for punishment for contempt.

When Manager Page of the Western Union was asked to produce the "H. D." dispatch and other messages he said the company now had none of their messages as far back as January 10, and he did not know whether they had been taken across the river to their offices in Covington and Newport, Ky., or sent to New York, or where they were.

Chairman Burke announced that as soon as the committee was through with all the willing witnesses proceedings would at once be begun to bring all of the unwilling witnesses before the bar of the senate for punishment for contempt.

May Visited the United States.

Washington, Jan. 25.—Following the visit of President Dole of Hawaii it is not improbable that the prospective president of Brazil will visit the United States some time between March 1 and November next. The election occurs in March and the prevailing impression is that Senor Campos Salles, the candidate of the Republican party, will be elected. He has signed the purpose, in case of his election, of visiting several countries.

For Foreign Riders.

New York, Jan. 25.—More foreign racing cyclists are to be brought to America for the next out-door racing season. A new race-promoting syndicate that proposes to operate a cycle track in New York city and to conduct a middle distance racing circuit that will include the largest eastern cities of the United States and Canada has sent a representative to Europe to secure the best possible available talent for that circuit.

Accident Insurance.

Washington, Jan. 25.—A strong tribute to the merits of the German accident insurance system is rendered in a report to the state department from United States Consul Monahan at Chemnitz, published in the daily consular reports. He shows that the workmen wounded by accident in Germany have been paid in the last 11 years, over and above their wages, nearly $120,000,000.

GENERAL INTEREST

In the Monetary Convention Is Larger Than Anticipated.

Indianapolis, Jan. 25.—The general interest in the monetary convention is shown by the large number of delegates present. The convention did not begin until 3 p. m. at the Grand Opera House, and was called to order by Chairman Hanna of the executive committee. Governor Mount of Indiana delivered a brief address of welcome, and Governor Shaw of Iowa was introduced as the permanent chairman of the convention and made an address.

Two Men Perished.

New Albany, Jan. 25.—A Kentucky and Indiana switch train was conveying a train of cars to the Air Line yards when the track gave way at a point near the foot of Bank street, precipitating the engine and one car into the water. Henry Murphy, engineer, and Charles Hanns, fireman, jumped and were rescued from the water. Carren Burke, the conductor, was pinned down into the water by a portion of the falling trestle and drowned before he could be rescued. Harry Miller, brakeman, was also drowned.

Attempted Suicide.

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 25.—When Sylvester Swift, a well known farmer southwest of this city, returned to the house after feeding his stock he found his wife in awful agony, she having taken rat poison. Swift forced some antidotes down her throat and hurried for a physician, who used a stomach pump, saving her life.

Work for Several Men.

Franklin, Ind., Jan. 25.—Work was begun on the large, continuous tank at the Quick City bottle works. A meeting of the stockholders occurred in this city Saturday, and Chicago capitalists were made members of the firm. This means employment for 100 more men within 90 days.

Catamount In the Neighborhood.

Bedford, Ind., Jan. 25.—What is thought to be a wild cat of unusually large size, or perhaps a catamount, is preying upon geese and other live stock in the vicinity of Millersville, and there is much alarm for fear that children may be attacked in passing to and from school.

Flora, Ind., Jan. 25.—Word has been received by relatives of Cassius and Anthony Chittick, in this county, that they have probably perished in the Klondike regions. The Chitticks left in August, and at Seattle were joined by William Gosser of Pittsburg, Pa., and Melville Scoville of Syracuse, N. Y.

Killed by a Rat.

Martinsville, Ind., Jan. 25.—John D. Stout, 86, of Jefferson township, died from the effects of a rat bite received in September, 1896. Up to that time he was a man of robust health, but after having been bitten he was prostrated by blood poisoning, suffering almost constantly therefrom.

Going to the Klondike.

Valparaiso, Ind., Jan. 25.—Bert Harris of Wheeler, this county, will go to the Klondike gold fields next month with a party from Whiting, Ind. John Drapier and family of McCool and H. Kuehl and two sons, and John Cameron and wife of this city will go.

For Kentucky—Rain; warmer in eastern portion; southeasterly winds.

EVEN the yellow New York Journal has discarded Mr. Bryan and his theories, but it is authoritatively stated that the silver champion retains the entire and unqualified approval of the Honorable but sockless Jeremiah Simpson—Public Ledger.

You're off again. The Journal some days ago denied this Bryan story.

PHOTOGRAPH OF A DEGENERATE.

The following is a picture, by a master-hand, of a type of citizen that is pushing his way into every vocation and walk of life. The most familiar variety is the "genial, high-toned gentleman" of the rural press:

The typical rascal is never the hero that romance, whether in the dime novel or the newspaper, pictures him. His intelligence is, as a rule, of a very low order, confined to keenness and cunning, which act in the narrow circle of first preying upon his victims and then trying to outwit justice. Compare it with the intelligence which works for good. His courage is generally greatly overestimated. He rarely fights except when he has the overwhelming advantage or when he is driven into a corner. His magnanimity and amiability—qualities especially credited to him by writers and readers of the low romantic school—are myths. They are no part of his business, save as they serve to cloak his villainy. Pure selfishness, or at best, physical temperament, is at the bottom of his good humor, apparent generosity and even his family affection, for when the crucial test comes he will sacrifice anybody and everybody to self. The proverbial "honor among thieves" holds good only to a certain point. The moment it becomes clear that no advantage, direct or indirect, remains to the individuals of the gang the vaunted honor is thrown to the winds, the gang disbands, each clutching what he can from the wreck of their common fortunes and henceforth preys upon his former pals with no more compunction than he feels in preying upon the rest of the world.—Edward C. Jackson in North American Review.

A GENEROUS TRIBUTE.

A Gem in Artistic Portraiture is Dr. Pickett's Sketch of the Late Hon. W. H. Wadsworth.

Seldom has any attempt to biographize exponents of any particular calling in State or country met with as favorable a reception as the latest publication of The Lewis Publishing Company, "Lawyers and Lawmakers of Kentucky." It is, however, seen at its best when analyzed with reference to the distinguished characters of which it treats.

Among the surpassingly rare sketches of Kentucky's eminent lawyers, there stands one conspicuously prominent—a gem in artistic portraiture and rhetorical finish, and with most touchingly beautiful in the truthful accuracy with which it measures a proper mead to a worthy son of Mason County and the city of Maysville. We refer to the exquisite testimonial of our fellow townsman, Dr. Thomas E. Pickett, to the memory of his friend, the late Hon. W. H. Wadsworth.

In a space limited to a few pages, a master hand has embodied what would readily fill a volume. The sketch of Mr. Wadsworth is easily the best of the book, and has elicited the commendation, and met with the endorsement of not only the most distinguished of his acquaintances in this State, but has been promptly recognized as a faithful biography by eminent friends in other States, and without reference to party lines; indeed, the highest encomiums coming from those of a different political creed. We recommend the sketch especially to the young men of Kentucky who may well emulate the illustrious and beautiful life described in the sketch. By the members of his own guild it has been cordially received, and it is certainly a generous and appreciative tribute from one learned profession to another.

BILL PENDING

Which Provides For a Complete Change in Road Laws.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 22.—Representative Shepard, of Kenton, has introduced a bill that is now pending before the House Committee on Internal Improvements, which provides for a complete change in the road laws of the State. The main features of the bill are as follows:

A State Road Commissioner, to whom all proposed new road plans must be submitted and his approval secured before said road can be built.

Requires the State to pay one third of the cost of all roads built, and the county the other two thirds, less one tenth the total cost, which must be paid by the owners of land by or through whose land the new road is to be built, and who petition for the road to be constructed.

The cost of building these roads shall not exceed $100,000 to the State in any one year.

The bill is lengthy, and goes into the details of carrying the new system of building the roads, including the duty of County Fiscal Court, the State Commissioners and the County Road Superintendent, and the manner of issuing bonds of the county to pay for the roads.

Mr. Shepard will make an earnest effort to have the bill passed, and has received much encouragement in that direction from his fellow members.

Captain Denny McGann.

[Louisville Dispatch.]

Among the arrivals in town Wednesday was Denny McGann, the Baltimore first baseman, who is stopping over for a few days on his way from Shelbyville to Hot Springs, Ark. The latter resort has become a great spring training place for ball players, who flock there by the hundreds. The hot baths reduce fat and the hilly country round about affords good hardening exercise. McGann will remain there for a month and then go over to Macon, Ga., where the Orioles have their annual spring gathering. McGann has little real need of going to the springs, as he is temperate in habits and always keeps in good condition, in and out of season. He got lonesome at home, however, and as there will be enough of players at the health resort to make up a small league, he can break in early in playing. He has heard nothing from Manager Hanlon since his transfer from Washington to Baltimore, but is naturally gratified at the change, which lands him into a championship team.

USURIOUS INTEREST.

Bill Fixing the Penalty Passed by the House—Action on Other Measures That Are Pending.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 24.—The House to-day passed Mr. Cantrell's bill fixing a further penalty for the charge by banks or other institutions of more than 6 per cent.

Also Mr. Hinton's bill repealing the act of March, 1893, requiring a statement with the Clerk before a lien under an execution can be required.

The bill originated by the committee on codes, permitting the testifying of convicts in civil cases and a wife against her husband in certain actions, was also passed.

The House adopted, as did the Senate, a resolution by Mr. Trimble upon the death of Judge Hines and providing for attending the funeral services.

THE old story of Prometheus is a parable. Prometheus was on terms of intimacy with the gods. From them he stole fire, and gave it to men. For this sin he was bound to the rock of Mount Caucasus, and vultures were set upon him. They ate at his liver. This grew again as fast as it was plucked away. Are his sufferings to be imagined?

Taking a modern interpretation of the parable, there is no cooking without fire. In cooking and eating the mischief lies. The stomach is overtaxed, the bowels become clogged, they cannot dispose of the food that is given them. The impurities back up on the liver. Then come the vultures—the torments of a diseased liver. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is more than equal to the vultures of dyspepsia and its kindred diseases. There is no more need of suffering from dyspepsia than there is of hanging one's self. Sold by all medicine dealers the world over.

A BILL making important changes in the election law is being prepared by several members of both houses and will shortly be introduced in the Legislature. The bill will provide for the appointment of a general Election Board by the Legislature, and this board will appoint County Boards, and the County Boards will appoint the officers of election. #### A NOBLE WOMAN.

A Tribute to the Late Miss Harriet Keith Owens.

The tragic death of Miss Harriet Keith Owens last week at her home near Washington cast a gloom over the community that has not been exceeded, if equaled, within the memory of the writer. Many gifted ones had gone hence before her, at an early age, and such as could be ill spared; those for whom blinding tears were shed by dear ones left to mourn them; but who of all these surpassed this talented young woman either in intellect or acquirements? She was truly one of nature's noble-women, ever foremost in all good deeds; never allowing her left hand to know what her right hand did.

Who were in distress and she did not relieve them?

Who were in want that she did not minister to their needs?

Her hand ever followed the promptings of a noble heart.

Withal she was a sincere Christian, her life proving it in many ways.

The last copy she wrote on the blackboard, the evening before her end, "God is love and we must trust him," showed what was in her heart. That copy remains there to-day to testify to her character as a Christian woman.

It was in the home life, though, that this excellent woman showed at her best; there she was the queen of grace and kindness.

Of a naturally studious bent, she improved her mind by constant and laborious study and reading. She was a worshiper at Wisdom's shrine, and impressed all with whom she came in contact with her wonderful ability. We question whether there was a better informed woman of her age in the State than she.

She was a woman of indomitable energy and perseverance, never undertaking anything that she did not accomplish; teaching and working when most women would have been confirmed invalids, so exhausting and depressing was the insidious disease that preyed upon her vitality.

What a pathetic sight was that company of school children gathered that fatal morning awaiting the teacher who was never more to come!

Her overwrought and delicate organism was finally compelled to succumb its enemy, and doubtless when reason was dethroned for the time, was she prompted to the death that brought sorrow and grief utterable to her brothers and sister and friends.

Where the pine trees mourn a requiem she sleeps peacefully, there to remain until aroused by the clarion notes of the archangel's trump on the resurrection morn.

"The boast of heraldry,
The pomp of power,
And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave,
Await alike th' inevitable hour:
The paths of glory lead but to the grave."

POPULAR CITIZEN GONE.

Death of Mr. John Wheeler Last Evening at 7 O'clock After a Lingering Illness.

In the death of Mr. John Wheeler Maysville loses one of her successful business men and most popular citizens.

A year or so ago Mr. Wheeler suffered a partial stroke of paralysis, and his health had been slowly failing ever since. Nine weeks ago he became much worse and since then had been confined to his home. He suffered from heart trouble, complicated with other diseases, and his condition had been extremely critical for some time. Last evening at 7 o'clock the summons came and he passed peacefully to his rest.

Deceased was born on Sutton street, this city, March 9, 1844, and was consequently in his fifty-fourth year. He had been engaged in the confectionery business at his present store on Market street continuously since 1863. The building was a one-story structure when he first started in business, but was afterwards reconstructed and enlarged to a three-story. He was a prudent and successful business man and leaves his wife and children quite a handsome estate.

Deceased was married twice, his first wife being Miss Lizzie Mangan, and his last Miss Anna Schafer, of Newport. The latter survives, and he leaves two children, one son, six years old, by his last marriage, and one daughter by his first marriage, Mrs. Charles Richardson, of Cincinnati.

The funeral will occur sometime Thursday. The date and hour will be announced to-morrow.

We'll Break the Rule.

January, as a rule, is a dull month for Clothing people. We believe much of the dullness is the fault of the merchants. They labor under the impression that nearly everyone has laid in their winter supplies and fear to expend money for printers' ink. We will break the rule and see what virtue there is in printers' ink and the offer of good Clothing at about 50 cents on the dollar. Now the first thing you want to do is to read this ad. carefully; the next is to come and see the goods advertised. What will follow will be a rule-breaker.

On Thursday morning, January 13th, and until the end of the month, all our fine Beaver Overcoats—garments that sold for $10, $12 and $15, will go at $8.75.

EAST LIMESTONE.

Henry Williams is slowly improving from an attack of heart disease.

The warm, open weather is beneficial to the wheat, which is looking well.

Robert H. Williams, who has been suffering with a severe attack of rheumatism, is improving and able to walk about the house.

The terrific wind Saturday night slightly damaged a barn for Mr. Tucker and a corn crib for Mr. Meyers; also blew down fencing and played havoc with fodder shocks and hay stacks.

Thomas Williams, while walking up the railroad Saturday evening, observed a landslides taking place just ahead of him in the Powers Cut, from which a large rock became dislodged, demolishing the railroad ties and bending a rail into an ébow shape. Notwithstanding the downpour, Mr. Williams returned some distance to the home of a section hand and promptly notified him of the fact. No doubt it would have resulted in a disastrous wreck to the down passenger train had it not been for this timely warning.

The Kennedy's Creek road was a raging torrent Saturday evening, and among those who met with casualties on their return home from the city were: Mr. Ha. Hill, being in a spring wagon, who became entangled among the plunging rock and debris, the Wagner family going to his assistance; Mr. and Mrs. Swice, after going part of the way, were compelled to go back and leave their buggy and walk home; Jackson Meyers' horse, which he was riding, was hit by a plunging rock and washed down some distance by the rapid current, and all this in a road assumed by some incorrigibles to be as good as any dirt road.

One Successful Exposition.

The final settling up of accounts for the Tennessee Centennial exposition at Nashville shows a gratifying result. The enterprise paid for itself and considerably more.

It was the most characteristically local exposition on a large scale that the older parts of the country have witnessed. Tennessee is as rich in local history and coloring and in the marked traits of its people as in mineral and agricultural resources, and that is saying much. This made the show at Nashville as unique as a great exposition can be.

Nashville had designs that went further than the preparation of a temporary park for the buildings of the fair. Beautiful as the capital of Tennessee is, it has no central public park. It has long been the desire of the citizens to secure such a park. Their civic pride was appealed to when the city got the fair. Each subscribed according to his means. The police of Nashville taxed themselves $10 apiece for the fair. So did many other persons of comparatively small means. The ladies who had charge of the woman's building would not accept free passes, but paid their way every time they visited the fair.

When the show was over, there was a comfortable surplus left. Patriotic Nashvillians, however, refused to take their money back, but donated it to the city park. Where the art building stands will be the nucleus of Nashville's city park. The art building is not a temporary structure. It will hold permanently the works contributed to it, and it will be the pride of Tennesseans. The ground around it, already laid out in decorative landscape and planted with trees, shrubs and flowers, will form a rare breathing spot for home people and strangers.

Hawaiian Annexation.

The editor of The Review of Reviews presents several strong reasons why Hawaii should be annexed to the United States without delay. The people of the islands themselves want very much to come to us for one thing. For another we ought to have a naval and coaling station in the Pacific. Perhaps the strongest reason of all is, however, that unless we annex Hawaii the new republic of the Pacific may be offered bodily to England. England would not leave it to go begging while carpings, fussy Miss Nancy critics split hairs over the question whether she had any right under the constitution to accept Hawaii and what she would do with it if she got it. Hawaii comes to us exactly as Texas did, and we did not hesitate about receiving Texas. European nations would not object to our annexing Hawaii because we are so peacefully inclined that they are all well disposed to us, says Dr. Shaw.

Another point, extremely important, to be considered is summed by The Review as follows:

American control of Hawaii is in some sense a duty that this country owes to Japan and China. Those ancient oriental states are seriously menaced by the aggressive attitude of England or Germany should obtain Hawaii the sort of peaceful development of the oriental nations which is most to be desired by us would be further endangered. Again, from the political and strategie point of view, the position of Hawaii ought to be regarded by us as closely related to other policies overwhelmingly favored by the people of the United States. We refer to the American control of the Nicaragua canal and to the acquisition of one or more satisfactory naval stations in the West Indies.

Even some American newspapers have been expressing sympathy for poor old England, browbeaten, insulted and ignored in European affairs, according to their belief. Meantime Mr. McLeavy Brown, the Englishman who had been dismissed as superintendent of the Korean finances and a Russian agent, M. Alexioff, appointed in his place, has been reinstated. China is earnestly seeking to enter into closer relations with British capitalists in order to get a loan from them. Great Britain is also prepared to enforce her right to winter ships at Port Arthur if Russia does. This does not look as though "poor old England" was quite a back number. When the scoffs of Germans and French and Irish and also of some American newspaper writers rain upon her back, she does not say much, always excepting some of her jingo editors. In the words of a famous poem written last year by an Englishman, "she turns her eyes toward the sea." That is all, but it is enough.
